"No Minor Vices" Is Comedy Hit

The laughs come rolling a mile a minute in "No Minor Vices," uproarious romantic comedy starring Dana Andrews, Lilli Palmer and Louis Jordan at the Elba Theatre Thursday and Friday, May 12 and 13.

Fresh and provocative in its situations, the plot of this hilarious triangle farce details the problems that come up when an uninhibited artist invades the previously untried privacy of a young doctor and his devoted wife and brings about a hurricane of complications.

Dana Andrews will win himself an army of new fans in his first all-out comedy role as the pediatrician whose stuffiness and routine order of living and loving are punctured when he finds out there is more to marriage than making a drudge out of his wife.

Lilli Palmer is completely captivating as the wife who finally discovers that she is glamorous and contrives to have two men dangle on a single, thin string without once letting control get out of her hands. A complete about-face from her emotions as portrayed in "Body and Soul," the attractive Lilli now shows herself to be a delightful comedienne.

The error that I have in mind was your recent article under the heading "Breaking Records" in which you stated that the Baptist Sunday School at Elba had broken all previous attendance records on two successive Sundays—that is, they broke the record on one Sunday and still had more the next.

I am glad they had these splendid turnouts and hope that it will increase from Sunday to Sunday and trust that all other Sunday Schools of Elba will do likewise.

However, the thing I started out to do was to correct the error in doing so, permit me to say that the figures you gave for the attendance on the above mentioned Sundays neither one broke the previous record which was 393. This record was made during the pastorate of my good friend and loyal co-worker, Rev. B. S. Franklin. Another dear friend of mine was Secretary of the Sunday School at that time, Brother J. H. Armour. I was Superintendent, but I give most of the credit for our splendid attendance at that time to them. Both, as you know, have gone on to heaven to receive their reward.

Now, believe it or not, we took care of the above mentioned attendance in the old church (it makes me sad to see it go) and that was before we even had a basement. I admit that we were somewhat crowded though.

Pardon me for taking up your time, but I could not refrain from calling your attention to this error.

With best wishes and kind personal regards, I am still your friend,
W. T. Whitman

Elba's Redbirds lost to the Dozier team Sunday afternoon by a 10-4 score in a game that saw the breaks go against the home team. The Elba batters made enough hits to win a ball game, but they were not able to connect when hits would have meant runs.

The Redbirds play New Brockton at Nelson Field Sunday afternoon. The pitching department, which has been none too strong this season has been added to and it is hoped that the Birds can get out of the losing habit that has dogged them most of the time this year.

The Elba Singing Society held its monthly sing Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church. It was well attended and a fine program rendered. Singers were present from all parts of Coffee County and several adjoining counties were represented.

It was the last meeting the Society will hold in the old Baptist church building. While the new building is being constructed the Society will meet in the circuit court room.

Death Valley, California, is the spectacular background for the new MGM thriller "Three Godfathers" filmed in technicolor starring John Wayne, Pedro Armendariz and Harry Carey Jr. at the Elba Theatre Sunday and Monday, May 8th and 9th.

Based on Peter B. Kyne's memorable tale of three bad westerners who make a desperate attempt to escape over the desert, fighting storms, harrowing thirst and the ominous shadow of their pursuers, this Argosy production carries a dramatic wallop in every reel.

Wayne is the amiable, two-fisted leader of the desperados, Armendariz is the sentimental Mexican, Carey is the youthful member of the trio who is wounded after their attempt to hold up a bank. Together they match their wits against the pursuing posse led by Sheriff Ward Bond. Complications arise when they come upon a dying mother and are persuaded to adopt her infant child, a situation which gives way to both tender and humorous moments. In the end, Wayne is the lone survivor, although he is apprehended, a twist of the tale turns him from villain to hero.

In the end, Wayne is the lone survivor, although he is apprehended, a twist of the tale turns him from villain to hero.

Wayne is the amiable, two-fisted leader of the desperados, Armendariz is the sentimental Mexican, Carey is the youthful member of the trio who is wounded after their attempt to hold up a bank. Together they match their wits against the pursuing posse led by Sheriff Ward Bond. Complications arise when they come upon a dying mother and are persuaded to adopt her infant child, a situation which gives way to both tender and humorous moments. In the end, Wayne is the lone survivor, although he is apprehended, a twist of the tale turns him from villain to hero.

RHOADES H.D. CLUB TOUR
In observance of Home Demonstration Club Week May 1-7, Rhoades H.D. club women met at the club house Thursday afternoon, May 5 at 1:30 o'clock. The women parked their cars at the club house and boarded trucks to see the improvements and progress that Home Demonstration programs have helped put into our community.

In the Rhoades community the land owners seemed to have awakened to the fact that to secure more capable tenants requires attractive and comfortable homes, good buildings, fences kept repaired in order to keep tenants satisfied. In turn tenants realize that more tenants are becoming available and they must do good work and keep the places looking neat and well in order to stay on that farm. Our club is very much interested in tenant home makers as well as those who own their own homes.

Our first stop was at the home of Mrs. Gardner Davis. Mrs. Davis showed us through her attractive well-kept home. She had quite a few jars of preserves she had canned this year on display. Her new 7 ft. Philco refrigerator with deep freeze locker caught all our eyes.

Mrs. Taylor Wise invited us in her home to see her new sofa, new curtains in the kitchen, new painted walls and floors in two of her bedrooms, new red silk curtains on the back porch and out of her back door on a cement walk to a dream of a laundry constructed of brick tile. It is equipped with automatic washer cabinets, couch, sewing machine, radio, and also an electric chicken picker. She plans to add a shower and a rest room soon.

Mrs. Thomas Moore has a very attractive home constructed of brick tile. The floor which she had recently painted as recomended by our home agent were very pretty. Much attention was given to the yard and lot being so clean and neat looking, and the many flowers she grew.

Mrs. Robert Wise, in further completion of her farm home plan, showed her back yard improvements. Her house and porch furniture had just had a face lifting with a new coat of paint. She was also in the midst of house cleaning and repainting floors.

Mrs. G. L. Ollehrest's home was clean and neat as usual. Her newly added bath room and her electric hot water are conveniences that she has recently added to her home.

Mrs. Cleve Jones' yards are always beautiful, so well landscaped. Her home with newly papered walls, new tile and new curtains in the kitchen the hand made rugs, bed spreads, table cloths and many other nice things were something any woman would have been glad to own.

Her daughter's home, Mrs. Luther Smith, was equally neat and pretty. Her walls are finished in sheetrock painted light colors. She had the most attractive and inviting bouquet of flowers seen on the tour. Her lawn was well landscaped and her blooming flowers on the side and back were very pretty.

Mrs. Bob Perry had done lots of work on her yard; planted camellias, azaleas and many other blooming flowers. She later plans to move, building, add a barbecue pit, etc.

Mrs. O. V. Rhoades has a well planned laundry with a cement floor, automatic washer and many other conveniences.

One of the most attractive places was the pretty well shaded attractive home constructed of zoyisa grass lawn of Mrs. L. L. Ballard where cold Coca Cola were served to go with the sandwiches and cookies we had carried along. Mrs. Ballard also carried us through her pretty, well arranged home. Some of her walls were newly painted and papered. Her yards were of equal beauty as her home. Flower growing is her hobby and each year she adds a number of camellias and azaleas. She always has a supply of cut flowers on hand.

We all had a good time and an abundance of fun. By the way, if any of you ladies missed any flowers, you'll find them either at Mrs. Taylor Wise's or at Mrs. O. V. Rhoades'.

The Dowling home was beautifully and elaborately decorated. A profusion of white flowers were used in the living room and dining room and flowers in pastel shades were used elsewhere in the home.

The refreshment table was covered with a hand-made lace cloth over white satin. The lovely crystal punch bowl, banked with Queen Anne's lace and ivory fern formed a central decoration.

White satin ribbon with trains of dainty greenery, extended from the center of the table to each corner, where the ribbon held small clusters of white flowers. Triple candle holders holding long tapers were placed on either end of the table.

Mrs. Elba Paul and Mrs. Melvin Bower assisted by Ella Wilkerson, Ann Fox, Jeanne Paul and Beverly Whitman served party refreshments.

14-Year Old Heroine Presented With New "Dream Home"

CHICAGO—More than 2,000 people witnessed the dedication of a $100,000 "dream" home for Roberta Lee Nelson, 14-year-old heroine who saved the lives of her four younger brothers and sisters when she discovered their father had lured them into a trap.

The marriage of Miss Juanita Fuller to John Frank Lindsey took place Saturday, May 7th at 5:30 P. M. at the First Baptist Church. The date marked the 30th wedding anniversary of the groom's parents.

A message from Matthew J. Connolly, secretary to the President, asserting that Mr. Truman "is delighted to send greetings to Roberta on this happy occasion" was read.

Another message from Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin "commended not only Miss Nelson for her outstanding act of heroism but also her management and practical sense in making a dream literally come true. It was a great act of brotherhood and neighborliness."

Money for the home was donated by well wishers and the labor was contributed by building trades unions.

Roberta was taken to the scene from the Cook county hospital, where she is recovering from severe burns.

On a ribbon which had been stretched around the house, then she received a gold key from Michael Scatena, president of the Chicago guild council of carpenters.

On a rostrum outside the house was a forty-piece band supplied by the Chicago federation of musicians. The band included State's attorney John S. Boyle, Richard J. Daley, state finance director, and Mayor Martin.

Except to cut the ribbon and receive the key, Roberta stayed inside the house, with her mother, Mildred, her step-father, Walter, and the children she saved—Leroy, Rosemary, 10; Henry, 8, and Ruth, 6.

Roberta later returned to the hospital to remain two weeks more.

In addition to the home and more than $10,000 worth of furnishings, a cash fund totaling $12,000 has been contributed.

Members of the Chicago building trades union completed the house in three weeks.

Nonagenarian Recommends Drop in Well for Ailments

WHEATLAND, OKLA.—Do you have heart trouble? A lame back? A common cold? Then listen to Charlie Weiche. He's a Wheatland man of 90 years who says—philosophically—that he "never gets sick."

Charlie fell into a well. He dropped 20 feet into eight feet of icy water. He held onto a pipe for an hour and 20 minutes before he was discovered by a 9-year-old neighbor.

"And," Charlie says, "I'll probably cure anything that's wrong with me."

Mrs. Weiche says "everything" includes heart trouble, a lame back, and a cold.

But Charlie does admit it was "one of the worst experiences I ever had." He figures he could have lasted about "10 or 15 minutes" more.

'Get Tough' Policy Gets Response From Lost Tot

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Kindness, ice cream and candy failed to draw the right words from the lost little boy.

Finally policeman Bill Wilson put on his grimmest face and said: "Now see here, wise guy, if you don't sing, I'll throw you so deep into the sink they'll have to pump the sunshine to you!"

"I'm Dickie Sharrsh. I live at 1015 Arcade Blvd., and I are four years old."

In the back. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried a white Bible, topped with a bouquet of white split carnations, centered with a white orchid and showered with narrow ribbon.

The bride is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fuller. She is a gifted vocalist and is a graduate of Elba High School.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lindsey. He graduated from Elba High School and later received a degree in mechanical engineering from APT, Auburn. He was a member of Ki Kappa Alpha social fraternity and Tau Beta Pi and Psi Chi honor societies. At the present time he holds a position with Dorey Trailers. He plans to begin studying at a Baptist seminary in September, in preparation for the ministry.

Mr. Lindsey and his bride spent their honeymoon in Florida and returned to Elba Thursday.

Lung-Resting Room Brings Good Results In Treatment of T-B

CHICAGO—A new lung-resting chamber has produced encouraging results in the treatment of advanced tuberculosis of both lungs.

The apparatus differs from the iron lung chiefly in that the patient's head is housed in the chamber of alternating air pressures.

The iron-lung patient's head is outside the chamber, which forces contraction and expansion of the chest wall by air-pressure variations.

However, with the head inside the chamber, which is supplied with fresh air, the changes of pressure above and below atmospheric pressure cause a minute change in air flow into and out of the lungs without any muscular effort of the patient.

"During the first week of residence in the chamber, the patient usually learns to renounce all voluntary respiration, and from then on resides in the chamber without conscious desire to breathe and with complete arrest of chest movement," the article says.

The physicians report that use of the chamber arrested six of 11 advanced cases of tuberculosis of both lungs and that nine of 11 patients with chronic tuberculosis showed complete healing of lung lesions.

Use of the chamber was reported more satisfactory than other common procedures, such as collapsing one lung.

Home-Built Automobile Bans Owner From License

LEHMAN, WIS.—E. H. Lehman has a brand new car on his hands but he can't drive it because it doesn't exist.

He bought the car from a Hustonford handymen who bought all the parts—some in Hustonford, some in Fond du Lac and some in Milwaukee—and pieced them together. It is, in fact, a 1940 Ford.

But, since it was not factory assembled, it has no serial number on the frame. Because it has no serial number, Lehman can't get a title. And without a title, he can't sell or drive it.

Lehman said that the motor vehicle department at Madison at first told him that a car just couldn't be built at home but finally had asked him to fill out a special title application blank for home-made vehicles.

Science Adds Bridge Party By Dressing Up Food Items

MEMPHIS, TENN.—How to serve salted nuts or potato chips at the bridge table so the guests won't get the cards and themselves as greasy has been announced by science.

The scientists simply lacquered the nuts instead of dipping them in oil. This lacquer was made from pecan, fruit, and fruit.

Pecan contains both salt and oil but dries into a brittle coating. It gives the nut a slick, attractive surface. And it comes in all colors to match the hostess' fingernails or her eyes.

The new nuts were passed around by scientists of the bureau of chemistry, United States department of agriculture, who thought up the idea.

The greasiest nut is expected to be popular with persons who get their clothes and faces so greasy.

The new potato chip, destined for a great future at the cocktail party, is possible because of a different method of processing potatoes.

First, part of the moisture is removed from the potato. Then it is frozen. When it is sliced and cooked, it absorbs less grease.

Barber Shop Becomes Mecca For Practical Joke-Players

STOUGHTON, WIS.—Regular customers at Jim Simon's barber shop here never ask for any point-brittle. They smoke their own cigarettes, and they don't ask to use Jim's light. They even use the chair carefully before they sit down. They never pick up anything from his counter.

It was during the depression that Jim tried to just plain barbering, and very little of that. He began whittling small wooden figures in his spare time, turned out a few with a comic twist and began playing practical jokes on his cronies.

They brought in their own exploding cigars, itching powder and other gimmicks to get even. Jim started ordering novelties in quantities to keep the jokes supplied. Before long he was devoting more time to demonstrating and playing tricks than to cutting hair.

He changed his sign to read: "Jim's Barber and Fun Shop" and now devotes a good part of his time to the novelty sideline.

Poultry Plant Aids Farmer, Consumer

Both farmers and consumers in the South will benefit by operation of this new poultry plant at Jackson, Mississippi. Sponsored by the state and operated by Swift & Company, the plant will be opened formally at public ceremonies Tuesday, May 10.

A new breed of chicken that gives rapid growth and uniform tenderness was developed for this type of operation. Chickens are fattened on a prepared mixed feed and reach a desired weight of 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 pounds in nine to twelve weeks. They are sent to the dressing plant at peak quality.

Speed and sanitation are the ruling factors at the processing plants to preserve the freshness of the meat. Flavor which consumers want. At the rate of two to three thousand an hour, the birds move along a continuous chain that carries them through every step of processing. Automatic rollers remove the feathers and remove pin feathers are removed by hand before the birds are singed.

Hatchery chickens are delivered to farmers for feeding under controlled conditions of temperature and ventilation. This makes possible a year-round feeding program.

Ceremonies at the opening of the plant will be held during the afternoon. At night, a country-style chicken dinner will be served to Gov. Wright and other officials of the state.

Adults Taught Child Writing To Save Money

NEW YORK—March 8.—Teaching grownups to write like children is the job of a pretty girl from Georgia.

The purpose is to save dollars for retail stores by making sales slips so plain and clear that no mistake will be made in the store.

If a department store ever sent you a "skit" instead of a "shirt," you know the value of plain writing.

The girl in her early 20's is Madeline Rose Hosmer Brenner, and she's from Atlanta. The system of writing—or rather, print-writing—was started by her mother, Mrs. Madeline Flint Hosmer. She developed her system of teaching while with the Atlanta division of the university system of Georgia.
